

Books For Change Submission Process

Thank you for considering to post your original work to our website!

In order to go through the complete submission process, please be sure to follow the directions and prompt below:

1. Please write a brief paragraph describing your interest and passion in writing or blogging. Save this as a PDF file with the name as “Lastname_Firstname_CL.pdf.”
2. Please attach your sample work and follow these directions:
 - a. Be sure that the post is designed to share your originaive thoughts on either literary works, current events, or personal opinions. Although we recommend writing posts similar to reflections, we certainly welcome analytical essays or book reviews.
 - b. The post should be no longer than two pages, single-spaced, and 12-point font. Post formatting may be edited but content will be untouched pending review and feedback.
 - c. An effective post is focused around concision and brevity. If you have a lot of different thoughts on your post, we recommend you to produce multiple posts outlining those ideas rather than making one big post with all your ideas.
 - d. If you choose to write about ongoing current events or other works that require citations, please indicate through hyperlinks where you are referring to. Please also be sure to create a “works cited” page at the end of your sample work.
 - e. Please title your sample work with a creative name.
 - f. Please save your sample work as “Lastname_Firstname_Sample.pdf.”

Once you go through these parameters, please send your paragraph describing why you wish to feature your work on Books 4 Change and your sample work to stevenlee@booksforchange.net. These should be two separate PDF files.

We look forward to hearing from you!

Steven Lee

Founder of Books For Change